THE WAR ON SPIRITS.

McConnellsville Setting Ohio a Great Example.

SPRINGFIELD BECOMING PUGNACIOUS.

Poor Prospects for the Columbus Convention.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Feb. 23, 1874. The whiskey raid commenced again to-day at Connellsville, Ohio, with renewed vigor. Three of the most prominent saloons were closed; two of them loaded their stock on drays, which were followed to the river by a large procession. When the river was reached the liquor was emptied out. At Springfield, Ohio, the temperance women started out an hour earlier than usual this norning, at the ringing of all the church bells, the men remaining and holding a prayer meeting. On Wednesday, at noon, the headquarters in Old Christ church will be dedicated. A procession will be formed of all he triends of the movement. The new quarters are to be fitted up with kitchen, lounges, &c., lor a regular campaign fortress.

At Lancaster, Ohio, to-day, a committee embracing ladies of the nighest social position and respectability was appointed to visit the saloons and drug stores to-morrow with a paper asking the proprietors to pledge themselves to quit the liquor business at the earliest possible moment. The main assemblage will remain at the church and pray for their euccess. If this request is unfavorably met with more stringent measures will be resorted to. Fitteen saloons have been closed in Xenia to

This was the sixth day of the war in Mount Ver-Ann, ohno, and seven bars have been closed by the prayer meetings of the women.

The summary of the temperance work in Springfield, as given to-night, is only moderately encouraging. Six hundred ladies are either at work or ready whenever called upon. Only three saloons now admit the ladies, all others being closed excepted them.

now admit the ladies, all others being closed against them.

Shoo Fly, a saloon man, had agreed to close today; but last night the other saloonists visited him, and to-day he locked the ladies out. At the end of two weeks prayer, song and labor not a saloon is closed under pledge.

The war opened to-day in Cadiz, Ohio.

The Mass Meeting at Columbus-Extraordinary Move at Mount Vernon.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 23-1 A. M. There are no indications at this hour that the Temperance Convention and mass meeting called for to-morrow will be of extraordinary importance. Some of the delegates will be detained by the freshet and other causes. Only one prominent man, Van Pelt, has put in an appearance. He is at the Neal

Pets, has put in an appearance. He is at the Neal House, and does not appear to have any followers, except a lew respectable provincial reporters.

The progress in Mount Vernon amounts to this, that the saloon keepers are ready to abadoon traide if their stock is purchased. The contract has been agreed to mutually by the parties amid the ringing of bells, music, praying, &c. Beside the Prohibition Convention in Mount Vernon on Thursday, a call has been issued for the meeting of the regular State Temperance Alhance on the 18th of March, for the purpose of raising money for temperance purposes. of raising money for temperance purposes.

The Movement Among Congressmen Meeting but Cold Enthusiasm. WASHINGTON, Feb. 23, 1874.

It was stated at the Congressional temperance meeting yesterday that on Saturday next a crusade similar to that now in progress in other cities will be commenced here against the liquor sell-ing establishments. The movement as yet does not show enthusiasm or largeness of numbers.

The Kentucky Women Anxious to Begin. LOUISVILLE, Feb. 23, 1874. A meeting of temperance people was held in this city yesterday, and arrangements were made looking toward a movement against the liquor dealers in McLean county on the 28th inst.

PENNSYLVANIA INVADED.

The Pittsburg Temperance Alliance to Apply the Entering Wedge Into the Keystone State-Pugnacious Dealers Not to be Done"-Views of a Catholic

There was a large meeting of ladies at the rooms of the Temperance Alliance this afternoon, favorable to the prosecution of the temperance cause in Pittsburg. Upwards of 100 ladies were present, ecting was presided over by Revs. M. C. Dermitt and Crange. The former referred to the great evil of intemperance, and in an earnest eech urged those present to put on their whole armor, and go into the good work with faith in the Lord that their mission would be successful. This he thought but the beginning of the end, so far as this movement was concerned. He invoked

There was a good deal of enthusiasm manifested and the ladies were urged to increase still further in numbers the organization, which, no doubt, will be easily done, as the meeting to-day was much more numerous than any yet held. Committees were appointed and preparations further completed for fighting successfully the great evil of intemperance. Liquor men have no fear that the result will be as successful in this State as in Ohio. A POLITE BUT PUGNACIOUS DEALER.

Marker Rush, President of the Allegheny County Liquor League, says the league will do nothing, as a body, to interiere with the women or their prayers. "If they call at my house," he said, "I shall invite them into the ladies' rooms, where they can remain if they choose as long as they do not moiest my business. When they do the latter I shall then politely request them to leave my premises and if they do not do it I shall go to the Mayor's office and have them arrested. If they obstruct the pavement in front there is a city ordinance which compels the police to clear the sidewark. We cannot afford to have our business obstructed in any such manner as that proposet obstructed in any such manner as that proposed. We pay heavy license and heavy rent and have a A TRUST IN STATE GOVERNMENT.

Another prominent liquor dealer said he was engaged in a legitimate business, one recognized by law, and for which he must pay $500 every year for a license. "It is not with us as it is in Onio. There liquor interests are not recognized by law. Therefore, when men are engaged in a legitimate business they have a right to be protected, and when they are interfered with they will claim protection of law."

when they are interfered with they will claim protection of law."

VIEWS OF A CATHOLIC BISHOP.

Bishop Domenec, of this Catholic diocese, gave his views to me as lollows:—"I can say that in the woman's plan of driving the saloon keepers from their places of business by praying and singing I see no difference from mob law, except, indeed, in weapons and missiles. A mob uses stones, ladies use prayer, and one is as much of a mob as the other. Here saloon keepers have paid their taxes and are living under the laws of the land, and my private opinion is that it is not right."

GOUGH TO LEND A HELPING HAND.

John B. Gough arrives here the latter part of this week, when he will deliver three lectures, with a view to push forward the temperance cause.

Philadelphia Will Not Have the Female Compulsory Tectotalism at Any Cost, PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 23, 1874.

From present indications there is nothing to justify the report that a certain religious element in this community contemplates the institution of a temperance crusade like that inaugurated in the West. There is no truth in the statement that the hotel, inn and restaurant keepers are establishing a protective union. The only protection the notel keepers in this city need is that which their ncense assures them by law. Any attempt to interiere with such license, any attempt to congregate crowds in front of any particular notel or saloon, your correspondent is informed, will be prevented by the police, and the parties who include in any such demonstration will be summarily arrested as obstructors of the side walk and violators of the public peace.

ALLEGED POISONING OF A WIFE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 23, 1874. About a month since the wile of N. M. Egbert lied near Princeton, Ky., under rather suspicious dreumstances. Shortly afterwards Egbert left in company with a young woman named Alice Carter and a little girl for whom he was guardian. He was followed, and he and Miss Carter were arrested near Blandville under a warrant charging them poisoning Mrs. Egbert

THE INDIAN TRCOBLES.

Generals Sheridan and Ord En Route for Fort Laramie-Foars of Hostile Intent on the Part of the Young Ogallallas. CMAHA, Neb., Feb. 23, 1874.

Generals Sheridan and Ord, with an escort, left Cheyenne yesterday morning for Fort Laramie. Troops left Cheyenne to-day. Information is received from Laramie that it is reported that the Cheyennes are debating whether to stay on their reservation or to go south and keep out of trouble. It is thought they will not coulesce with hostile tribes. keep out of trouble. It is thought they will hot coalesce with hostile tribes.

Many Indians continue to go north for the purpose of joining the war parties. Crazy Horse's band has declared for war. The employes at the agencies at Red Cloud and Whetstone are apprehensive of trouble. It is considered doubtful whether the Ogaliatia young men will stand by the agencies. Their hostile action towards those who nave declared for peace is not considered favorable. However, no trouble is at all probable with the Indians south of Fort Laramie. If they commit any depredations it will be in Dakota, Northern Wyoming and Montana.

CHEYENNE, Wyoming, Feb. 12, 1874.

Generals Sheridan and Ord reached Fort Laramie in safety this morning.

General Baker, the noted Indian fighter, arrived here yesterday and left for the front to-day. Nine companies of infantry and seven of cavalry left here to-day for the vicinity of the Red Cloud Agency.

Considerable snow has fallen throughout this section and the weather is cold.

The Funeral of Lieutenant Robinson. HARTPORD, Conn., Feb. 23, 1874. The remains of Lieutenant Levi S. Robinson, Fourteenth United States Infantry, who was killed by the Indians near Fort Laramie, were buried in New Britain to-day, with military honors. There was a very large attendance of citizens at the funeral. The local military companies and the members of the Grand Army furnished its escort.

THE MASKED ROBBERS.

Brady and Hobbs Arraigned for Trial at Catskill-Adjournment for a Day to Await the Appearance of Witnesses. CATSKILL, Feb. 23, 1874.

This little Hudson River village is in a state of excitement to-day over the taking up of the criminal calendar by Judge Theodore Westbrook, of the Court of Oyer and Terminer. It embraces the notorious cases of Brady and Hobbs, the masked burgiars who attacked, bound and gagged the Post family and robbed their residence; and also the case of Waltz, the scissors grinder murderer. One hundred and twenty-five extra jurymen have been empanelied, and an hour before the Court was called to order all the lobbies were crowded with jurymen and spectators, anxious to get available seats. So dense was the throng that tickets of admission had to be issued by the Sheriff, as the little court room will not noid over 400.

The first case moved upon the assembling of the Court, at two P. M., was that of Dennis Brady, the masked burglar, who stands charged with entering the residence of Abraham Post on the night of the 17th of October last, and, in company with others, binding, gagging and robbing the family and house. Brany was brought into court long be-fore the people were allowed to enter and was carefully guarded by an officer. He is a finely built, muscular looking fellow, and was attired in dark clothes. He wears black side whiskers and a little black mustache, which he is continually pulling. District Attorney Sydney Crowell appeared for the people, and Messrs. Osborne and Givens, of Cats-

District Attorney Sydney Crowell appeared for the people, and Messrs. Osborne and Givens, of Catskill, for the prisoner.

The counsel for the prisoner stated they were not ready, as their witnesses were not present, though they had been subpossed. After a brief discussion the Court directed counsel for prisoner to file his attachment.

Rurus W. Watson, counsel for Charles Hobbs, the other masked burglar, stated he was ready for trial. The District Attorney insisted on Brady's trial first, and if one was put over so must the other be. Mr. Watson stated that Hobbs had now been confined three months, and there is evidence to show that he is entirely innocent and they were ready to present it.

to show that he is equirely innocent and they were ready to present it.

At the request of Brady's counsel a number of his absent witnesses were called, and none answering the necessary attachments were ordered for them. Some of the names were remarkable for their specifications as they were pronounced a close toserver cound detect a sinile pass over the face of Detective Fields, who sat comparatively haknown in the Andienked.

While the Court was waiting for the drawing up of the necessary affidavits all eyes were turned upon Brady, and the whispered comments were not all in his favor. Mr. Watson, counsel for Hobbs, talked in low tones to a person sitting near him. Sad he, "That man Hobbs is sure to get clear. He will prove an allot by the most respectable witnesses. He was nowhere near here on the night of the Post robbery."

able witnesses. He was nowhere near here on the night of the Post robbery."
It was four o'clock before counsel for prisoner presented the affidavits. The names of the wit-nesses given in the affidavit as absent are as fol-lows, all in New York:—Thomas Murphy, No. 122 lows, all in New York:—Thomas Murphy, No. 122 street: John Manney, to be found at Murphy's; Richard Suttle, at the Battery; Michael Quigley, Battery; Thomas Whes, No. 122 Cherry street;

Henry Thompson, Marion House, corner of East Broadway and Catharine street. Counsel for prisoner said Whese could not be a very bad man, for he ran for member of Assembly hast fall.

The Court handed the Deputy Sheriff the papers to serve upon the contumacious witnesses, and that official hurried off to New York with them. This finished all the work that could be performed today in the Brady case, and, as the Court stenographer had sent word he was ill, the Court adjourned till to-morrow morning at nine o'clock, the Judge warning all witnesses not to leave the place and cautioning all jurors not to discuss the impending trals, so that they may assume the responsibility of their positions without blas.

As the crowd thronged out Officer Ernst mingied with it, having Brady securely handcuffed to him. As they bassed into the lobby a mob of strangers pressed close to Brady. The officer did not like the aspect of things; but he kent the prisoner close to him and lodged him securely in his cell for the night. therry street: Patrick and James Tangle

NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE.

Adjournment on March 20 Agreed Upon-The Bill Amending the Charter of Jersey City.

TRENTON, Feb. 23, 1874. Both houses of the Legislature to-day agreed to djourn sine die on the 20th of March, instead of the 13th, as at first agreed to. McPherson introduced a substitute to his bill supplementing the charter of Jersey City, which, he says, makes no radical changes in the general provisions of the original bill, and that a committee of republicans of Jersey City, who have been in consultation with him, have agreed in the proposed alterations.

THE BOLLWAGON AND HARDIN WILL CASES. The examination in the hotly contested Rollwagon will case was continued in the Surrogate's office yesterday, while the equally hard fought Hardin case was going on at the same time in the court room outside. Surrogate Hutchings alternated between the two places, deciding points at issue in regard to the admission of testimony and keeping both examinations running smoothly. In the former case the cross-examination of Mrs.
Stewart, niece of the testator, occupied the whole day, but nothing new was elicited, nor was her direct testimony, previously published, shaken in any particular. In the Hardin case the examination of papers in relation to banking and commercial transactions of the deceased consumed the

A BOGUS CHECK TRANSACTION.

A warrant was issued last week by Justice Walsh for the arrest of Captain Thomas McCarthy. of the National Guard, on charge of obtaining money upon a spurious check. The complainant in the case is George Falk, leweller, of No. 189 At. lantic street, Brooklyn. He charges that the Cap-tain had a clock repaired at his store, and preited a check for $17.50 in payment. The cost of work was $2, and Mr. Falk gave the change to the accused and deposited the check in the cank. In due course of time it was returned as worth-less, their being no account to the credit of M McCarthy. The Captain was arrested yesterday.

ESCAPE FROM SING SING.

A FLOATING VILLAGE.

Three Hundred Fishermen Adrift on Ice in Saginaw Bay-Terrible Calamity Threatened-Drifting Twenty-five Miles on the "Floe"-Two Hundred Escape to the Shore with Difficulty-A Hundred Men Yet to Rescue.

DETROIT, Mich., Peb. 23, 1874. During the present winter there has been located on the ice in saginaw Bay, about one mile from the mouth of Saginaw River, a village, consisting of about sixty shanties, and inhabited by about 300 fishermen from Bay City and the villages of Bangor and Essexville. About eight o'clock this morning, after the men had gone to their fish traps, a party just off the east shore of the Saginaw River, and about eighty rods into the bay, discovered that the strong southwest gale then prevailing had caused the ice to crack, and that they were floating rapidly in a northeasterly

Turning to go to the village they discovered par ties in every direction hurrying wildly toward the shanties, and the men at once knew that they were adrift.

They drifted in an easterly direction at the following speed-viz., at ten o'clock at the rate of three miles an hour, at noon they were going five miles, at one o'clock seven miles, at two o'clock three miles. They were to the northeast of Quanicassee Creek at five o'clock, six miles west of the village of Sebewaing, having floated nearly twenty-

The floating cake of ice is above one mile square.

The men are well provided with food and shelter. When off Fish Point about 200 of the men reached shore by jumping from one piece of ice to another, but two men, John B. Porrier and H. J. Smith, of Bangor, were drowned.

The escaped men report the ice rapidly breaking. Between 75 and 100 men are still drifting on the ice, unable to get ashore. Among those afoat is George Smith, of Bay City, who was with Mr. McEwen in his dangerous six days' float on Sagi naw Bay some weeks ago.

Great excitement prevails at Bay City and the villages, and at Sebewaing they are making efforts to rescue the unfortunate fishermen.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

A Floating Village-Three Hundred Men. Teams and Sleighs Drifting Toward the East Shore of Saginaw Bay.

BAY CITY, Mich., Feb. 23, 1874. Intelligence reached here to-day that at nine o'clock this morning, in the lake, a cake of ice several miles in extent broke off from the shore in Saginaw Bay, at a point east of the mouth of the river. Extending down the east shore on this field of ice there were fully 300 fishermen, several teams and sleighs. men are well supplied with snanties, food and fuel. When last seen they had drifted several miles northeast, when a strong southwest wind, shifting to westward, drifted the ice toward the east shore of the bay.

Fifty More Said to Have Escaped. BAY CITY, Feb. 23-Midnight.

A report from Sebewaing this evening says flity men have made a landing there. Other reports from various points say about 200 have escaped. Two men named H. J. Smith and John Pourrier, of Banks, are known to have been drowned. The ice is solid and ranges from twelve to twenty inches in thickness and not easily broken up

A FLOOD AVERTED.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Feb. 23, 1874. Clear, windy, colder weather has removed the danger of a destructive flood in the Ohio River. Boatmen coming down the river report that all the tributaries are running out heavily. The Mus-kingum River is reported as being higher now than it has been for many years.

VEXATIONS ON ICE.

SOUTH NORWALK, CORN., Peb. 23, 1874. For two weeks, ending with the 16th inst., the cold had been great, and ice men happy in being able to harvest a crop which had, until that period, been considered doubtful. Despite the dark look when February arrived, it has been possible to fill every ice house in Connecticut. Indeed, so flush ve with our very unexpected supply that outsiders were attracted nither with desire to realize benefit from our surplus. The Washington lee Company of New York were on the list of those having great expectations, and on Saturday fitted out four barges, capable of holding 1,000 tons each of ice, and placing on boord some dozen men, horses, rations, forage and toois, sent them in tow of a tug to Norwalk, where they arrived late in the atternoon. The barges were moored at a convenient wharf, and the men, horses and appliances were transported by car to Cannon's station, on the Danbury and Norwalk Railroad, adjacent to which is the beautiful Lake Umbemaug. It can be said the party of men, with horses and tools, reached the latter safely, only to find a prospect of blasted hopes. The preceding six days of mildness, log and rain had rotted the ice on the lake, reducing its thickness from ten to less than six inches, and it was so thin in places and full of holes that it would not bear the weight of men, realize benefit from our surplus. REMARKABLE BANKBUPTOY CASE. Experimental Honesty of Register, Assignee and Attorney in the Settling of the Affairs of the Franklin Savings

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 23, 1874. The bankruptcy case of the Franklin Savings Fund promises to be a remarkable one, at least in point of economical management.
At a conference held to-night between the committee of the creditors, the attorney selected the accountant employed and the Register, a full report of the condition of affairs was presented, and a plan for future management matured.

The Register is to wait for all fees until the money is fully collected. The attorney selected agrees to charge only one per cent, instead of five per cent, the usual fee, and to wait for this until the claims are fully recovered. The assignee to be chosen must agree to accept one per cent, and, as in the cases of the others, await collection. The assignee is to be chosen at a meeting to be held in about three weeks.

It is probable that the entire expenses of conducting the suit and collecting all money, perhaps amounting to $800,000, will not exceed $20,000. the accountant employed and the Register, a full
